In a year there are four scheduled Meetings. Advisors should submit a report to the NCWQ State Coordinator prior to the meeting and speak to the report at the meeting. A report is also required for the AGM. Your reports should also be sent to the National Adviser of your portfolio and are also posted on the NCWQ website.

In addition your experience and or expertise may be called upon for assistance with submissions to government or for the formulation of conference resolutions that concern your area of monitoring. Your report may include recommendation of issues for the management committee of NCWQ to pursue.

Be assured, your work on behalf of NCWQ is vital, appreciated and valued.
